IV. Eligibility

1. All enrolled students at NCTU may apply for exchange. The limitations regarding year of study, college, department, and institute depend on the exchange agreements with various sister universities. Relevant limitations are outlined in the pamphlets for annual exchange programs.

2. Eligible overseas students (including international students, overseas Taiwanese students, and students from mainland China) may also apply for exchange, although international students and overseas Taiwanese students may not apply for exchange at universities in their countries of origin. Overseas students receiving scholarships from the Ministry of Education, NCTU, or other government authorities may not receive scholarships during the exchange period. Only tuition and fees are waived.

3. Students planning to study in foreign countries or in Hong Kong or Macao, regardless of whether the sister institution has relevant regulations or not, should present foreign language examination scores: TOEFL iBT, IELTS, GEPT (both stages), TOEIC (including oral and written tests), or test scores of a third foreign language that are accepted by the host university. If the sister institution do have relevant regulations, the applicant must submit a foreign language score report that fulfills the requirements in order to choose that particular institution. Students not submitting foreign language score will obtain a score of 0 for the foreign language skills in review item; additionally, students will be required to supplement the examination scores before a designated date, or the student will be disqualified.
